
Lowered GSs

Posted by pjessen - 2008/05/01 12:14

Seems like the local dealers take a bit longer to get new models in and months to get the word out. Here's a blurb from Max Stratton, one of the premier dealers on the east coast. Whadayathink? Would this help tip your decision towards buying a GS?

Factory lowered 2008 R1200 GSes are here!
In-stock and ready to go!

The bike that customers have been waiting for is here! The new factory-lowered R1200 GS combines a modified suspension and lowered seat to bring you 2-3" closer to the ground, providing greater comfort and control for those of us with shorter inseams.

This factory-lowered option from BMW costs thousands of dollars less than lowering a standard GS using custom aftermarket suspension, so demand is high for these models! Earlier this year, we placed a special order and now have 9 factory-lowered R1200 GSes IN STOCK and available for immediate delivery. As of this e-mail, we have every color available, so call us today before your favorite color is gone!

For more information on the factory-lowered R1200 GS, please call Frank in our NH store at 603-964-2877 x 111 or Joe in our NY store at 518-279-3040 x202. Then come on in, throw a leg over and enjoy the solid feeling of the floor with your foot! http://www.coloradobeemers.org/images/fbfiles/images/gs_low.jpg

=====